

Pioneer Football League Individual Records

Players must have played in eight games to be ranked among the PFL's single-season leaders. They must have played two seasons and 15 games to be ranked among the league's career leaders. Statistics only include the years since the league's formation in 1993. Defensive statistics officially became recognized by the NCAA in 2000 and only those numbers are included among the PFL's top 10. Players listed below the dashed line in career average or percentage categories are active players whose current average or percentage would place them within the top 10 in that category. They will not be listed among the career leaders in average of percentage categories until their careers are completed.
