WEEK 6 PREVIEW

Week Six has four Pioneer Football League contests slated, but both of the league's 2-0 squads – Drake (non-conference game) and Butler (off week) – will take a breather from PFL action. The league's other two unbeaten squads – Dayton and Jacksonville – will hit the road seeking to maintain that status. The league's remaining two contests pit teams that each lost in Week 5 and will seek redemption this week.

Former PFL South Division members will square off when Morehead State travels across the Appalachian Mountains to meet Davidson. Both teams dropped contests last week, Davidson losing at Jacksonville while Morehead State fell at home to Dayton. The Eagles are still seeking their season's first PFL victory while the Wildcats will attempt to end MSU's two-game win streak in the series.

Jacksonville takes its seven-game PFL win streak into New York for its first-ever meeting with Marist. The Dolphins, who downed Davidson at home last week, return to New York where it met Albany in the 2008 Gridiron Classic. The Red Foxes earned their first PFL victory against Campbell, snapping a three-game overall losing streak.

Dayton also heads across the Appalachian's when it meets Campbell in its first visit to Barker-Lane Stadium. Dayton was the lone road team to win last week, earning a victory at Morehead State. Campbell fell on the road but returns home for the first time since a season-opening home victory against Methodist.

Drake steps out of conference action this week when it hosts Missouri S&T at Drake Stadium. The Bulldogs are unbeaten at home this season, including a victory against Valparaiso in PFL action last week.

San Diego makes a second consecutive trip to Indiana when it meets Valparaiso. The Toreros did not fare well in their last visit to the Hoosier State, dropping a 25-24 decision at Butler courtesy a last-second field goal. Valparaiso will play its second home game this season and is still seeking its first home victory.
